

Kellogg's FUNNY JUNGLELAND MOVING-PICTURES

Published by

Gift of Philémon and Judy
Wie Goodwin Sturges

W. K. Kellogg

Copyright, 1909, by W. K. Kellogg.

Patented, Jan. 15, 1907

Copyright, 1909, by
W. K. Kellogg

BLOWING BUBBLES

Bubbles, bubbles, who has troubles?
That's a case of what to eat?

Eat the flakes as light as bubbles.
Give yourself a treat.

AT SINGING SCHOOL

Sing from daylight until night
Sing from dark until its light,

"Kellogg's Corn Flakes every morn
It's the sweet heart of the corn."

A GOOD TIME

What are we so happy about?
Turn this page and you'll find out.

I know that you'd be happy, too,
If such a lunch was spread for you.

JUNGLE QUEEN

In Jungle Land, so far away,
These funny people live and play.

They roam at will and rule supreme.
They have crowned Miss Hippo, Queen.

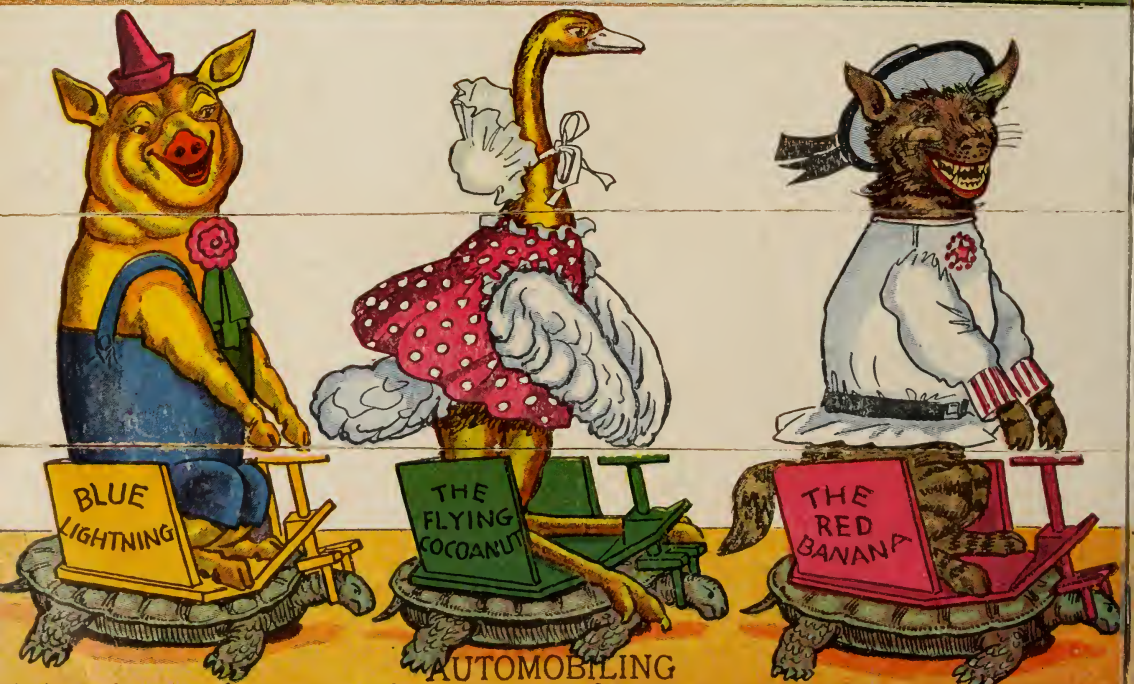

Copyright, 1909, by
W. K. Kellogg.

ON PARADE

A Flamingo, Boar and Ibex made
The cutest kind of a small parade.

They astonished the natives of Jungleground,
By the funny antics they had planned.

AUTOMOBILING

If there is any place you wish to go
Tortoise-mobiling is sure but slow.

Get them started they'll travel all day
They never get frisky or run away

THREE YOUNG MEN

Three young men all out together,
Dressed in suits and hats so fine.

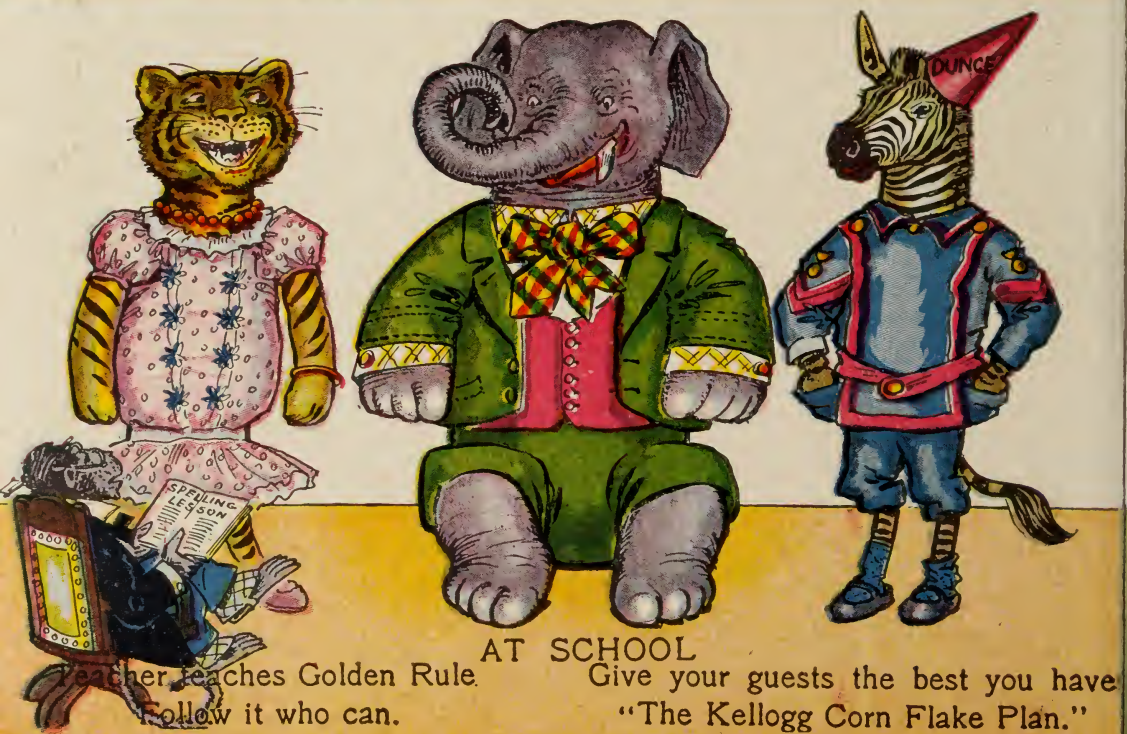

Turn this leaf and you'll see whether,
These young men would like to dine.

ROLLER SKATING

We whiz along at a rapid pace,
Because we three are running a race

The fun of skating nobody knows
Until he himself skating goes

DANCING

Very happy and full of glee
Because we're dressed like men, you see.

Turn these two top leaves, if you please
We can sing, play and dance with ease.

THE SERENADE

Sir Donkey thought to serenade
His friends, the Camel and Kangaroo.

But they seem very much dismayed
And don't stay till he's through.

MUSICIANS

Let your life be good and funny
Let your food be light and sunny.

Sing a song of little money,
Get a food as sweet as honey.

HAVING FUN

"Let's change about," the Lion said,
Suppose we take the feet and heads

Of the Camel Donkey and Kangaroo,
Our friends won't know us then, would you?

GOOD FRIENDS

Said the Elephant to his friend the Giraffe.
Your taster's so long it makes me laugh.

If only I had such a fine, long neck,
I'd eat Kellogg's Corn Flakes by the peck.

QUEER FELLOWS

If you wish to see something queer,
Put other heads on the Cow, Horse and Deer.

Change their feet, too, try it and see
How very funny they all will be.

Kellogg's FUNNY JUNGLELAND MOVING PICTURES

To market, to market, jiggedy jog,
Bring back Corn Flakes made by Kellogg!
Crispy and brown and good as can be;
I love them -you'll love them, -nother helping, that's me!